

Get in Touch

If you are not in touch with your local banker, you and the bank both lose. The banker needs your business, but you also need the banker in your business. If you have been a steady depositor, a square man, a good customer, the banker knows it. If hard luck should strike you, your being in close touch with the banker would help some. Successful men have a thing they call "Credit." They guard it. They know its worth. You can obtain it. Do business with a bank. You should be in as close touch with your banker as with your family physician. Both, in the nature of the case, know some of your secrets. One is as important as the other. We invite your confidence. Let us be your financial physician. We'll not violate your confidence.

Moody-Norman

A wedding of unusual interest occurred in Huntingdon Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, the contracting parties being Mr. Clarence Hillman Moody and Miss Ernestine Norman. The marriage was solemnized in the First Cumberland Presbyterian church, the church that was dedicated by the bride's great grandfather, the late Rev. A. E. Cooper, a much loved Cumberland Presbyterian minister of his day, and the officiating minister, Dr. P. F. Johnson, of McKenzie, was also ordained into the ministry by the Rev. Cooper. The church was beautifully decorated, the windows shaded and the house lighted with candelabra.

Preceding the ceremony a musical program was rendered by Mr. Frank T. Tobey, of Memphis, and Misses Ruby and Willie Lankford, of Huntingdon, with Miss Martha Hillsman, of Trezevant, presiding at the organ. Miss DeRhoda Wingo, of Trezevant, served as candle lighter. Miss Bertha Edwards, of Huntingdon, and Miss Kathleen Wingo, of Trezevant, were bridesmaids, Mr. Bloomfield Boden, of Springville, was best man, and the bride was accompanied to the altar by her father; little Miss Harriett Johnson, accompanied by Master Caleb Witt, of Medina, was ring bearer; and Messrs. Joe Hester and Curtis Enoch were ushers.

The bride was becomingly gowned in a blue traveling suit with hat to match and carried a bouquet of bride roses, while her maids appeared in sand colored Georgette crepe and carried pink carnations.

Among the many treasured wedding presents showered upon the young couple were some china cups and saucers bought by the bride's great grandfather, Rev. A. E. Cooper from the late Addie McNeill in 1867, and given to his daughter, the late Mrs. J. J. Wingo, grandmother of the bride.

The groom was reared in Henry county, but has been in Huntingdon about two years, having served first as county agricultural demonstrator and now as instructor of agriculture in the Huntingdon school. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Norman and is an accomplished young lady with many excellent traits of character.

Mr. and Mrs. Moody left on the 4:50 p. m. train for Memphis and other points. They will live in the Mrs. W. W. Murray residence on East Paris street.

William H. Johnson

The remains of William H. Johnson reached Huntingdon last Friday morning from Los Angeles, Calif., and were laid to rest that afternoon in Oak Hill cemetery. The funeral services were conducted at the M. E. church, south, of which church he was a life-long member, Rev. W. D. Pickens, of Milan, assisted by D. B. Raulins, officiating. The remains were accompanied from Los Angeles by his wife, Mrs. W. H. Johnson, and son, Mr. Percy Johnson, and on arriving in Huntingdon were carried to the home of Mrs. Ben H. Jamison. J. W. Murphy met the party at Memphis and accompanied them to Huntingdon.

Mr. Johnson died from the effects of the cancer from which he was suffering when he left Huntingdon. He was 66 years old, was born and reared in Carroll county and spent nearly his entire life here. He was a man of fine character, upright and honest in his dealings with his fellow man and had the confidence and esteem of everybody. He is survived by his wife and son. His host of friends here sympathize with the bereaved in their sad affliction.

Potato Houses

Sweet potato houses, as recommended by the United States department of agriculture, are proving eminently satisfactory in Tennessee. These houses are cheaply constructed, and require only ordinary care to make them a success.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces of the system. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give $100.00 Dollars for any case of Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine free. All Druggists.

A card was received by K. L. Vickers, out on route six, last week, from his son, Franklin Vickers, who is in France. Mr. Vickers had not heard from his son since the first of last October, and the family had been very anxious about him. The card stated he was well and getting along fine. The family were more than delighted to receive this news.
